HIGH SCHOOL
MCMXXXII

DEDICATION . . .

• We dedicate this year's Legend to Mrs. Edith Glucksman in whom the essence of a teacher is personified: understanding, cheerfulness, and sincerity. She has added to our high-school lives the counsel that levels rough paths, the sympathy that allays minor blows, and the warmth that makes men sigh wistfully at the recollection of their school days. Indeed, she merits the title of "beloved friend."

THE LEGEND '43

TO
JUNE
1943 . . .

● You are a large class and a good one. Unlike many graduates in the past, most of you have no uncertainty regarding the road you are to travel; your itinerary and your goals are set. We expect you to go far—to perform valiant service for America on the battlefield and the home front and to bring honor to the name of our school. Good luck to you all!

MAX J. HERZBERG

AIDES TO THE PRINCIPAL . . .

WALTER WHITE

● The name of Mr. White has, for us, been synonymous with Service. And as we Seniors look back upon our well-planned schedules, we realize that Mr. White has been responsible for preparing them. When, at the beginning of a term, classes were overcrowded, or one of us needed a change of course, we knew we could depend on Mr. White to straighten things out in his efficient, unassuming way.

ROBERT M. COLEMAN

● Ours was the first class to enter the annex, and Mr. Coleman was our introduction to Weequahic traditions and ideals. If first impressions are the lasting ones, our love for Weequahic certainly can be traced all the way back to Mr. Coleman's kindness, consideration, and friendship four years ago.

FOREWORD

● It was September 1933 and the new building, the bricks and mortar piled high, anticipated life. Then came the teachers with the life giving qualities of enlightenment, tolerance, and initiative. The barren structure thrived and the students surged forward in fellowship and the spirit of youth. Ten years ago it was new, now it can view with pride a decade of service, a generation of prospects. Now it has instilled its ideal of service in students whose ranks are legion. Through its doors have passed tomorrow's lawmakers and citizens—its corridors have laughed and cried with the varying moods of youth. Thus, the years have passed, and yet the innumerable cavalcade continues. The inanimate object has gained a heart, a soul, a tradition—it can never grow old.

WEEQUAHIC HIGH

Weequahic High, you're ten years old—
Each year your service unto youth
Encouraged in the search for truth,
Quixotic fervor held controlled,
Until the need for patriots bold
Aroused to action all our land.
Henceforth may you undaunted stand,
Instill the lessons manifold,
Continue long the young to mold.
Weequahic High!

HOMEROOM

JULIUS C. BERNSTEIN

Inexhaustible sense of humor—eternally cynical—knows more old jokes than anyone and tells them—puts his heart and soul into his teaching—airs his ego on his Sagamores—cautions us not to play the stockmarket.

EDITH G. GLUCKSMAN

Wears a pair of silver wings proudly—teaches French the Free French Way—has adorable laugh—can and will talk about anything from baseball to Mr. Glucksman—a senior adviser who isn't very much senior.

CORA C. HARRIS

Weequahic's most successful godmother—teaches the girls everything from first-aid to child care—is at peace with all except boys' health classes—soft of voice and sweet of action—can keep a secret about anything except Mr. Harris.

JAMES B. HAWLEY

A nature lover, even human nature—guides 102 with kindness—has Damon and Pythias relationship with Mr. White—tries to deny being a "gentleman gardener" at home.

HELEN B. MERCURIO

A reformer at heart—helpfulness personified—takes her Social Studies and Victory Corps with like seriousness—looks like a student in a group—giggles like one too.

. . . THEY'RE

TEACHERS

MABLE M. PATTON

Always sincere—teaches Latin, French, and Spanish equally well—a sort of “one man” League of Nations—translates everything into Latin from the Lord’s Prayer to Dodger box scores—has fine sense of humor and even finer laugh—spoils H. R. 327 with affection.

ANITA E. QUINN

A real friend—has adopted all of H. R. 107—listens to more of their problems than Mr. Anthony—loves apartment and Miss Clements equally—reserves cookies for those who’ve lost their lunches on the “14.”

ALICE M. SALTMAN

Is artistic without the temperament—can best be described as “being regular”—does more favors for more people than “Mr. Jordan”—will always supply a last-minute book cover.

SAUL SEID

The “poor-man’s Einstein”—can be diverted from giving tests by “profound and diplomatic” questions—confesses being but one chapter ahead of his class in Aeronautics—makes even Math enjoyable—likes students and is genuinely liked in return.

DAVID E. WEINGAST

Loves everybody except Republicans—is affectionately known in inner circles as “Uncle Davey”—wears corduroy jacket to football games looking more like a student than the students—nurses his I. R. Classes with as much care as he shows to his ’38 “Olds.”

HUMAN, TOO!

A WEEQUAHIC LEGEND

On the slopes of Chancellor Avenue,
High upon a hill, a wigwam,
Which we know by name, Weequahic,
Fairest in the land, Weequahic.
Here we daily went for knowledge;
Here we learned the tribal customs,
Learned the customs of Weequahic.

Learned to know the famed Chief Herzberg,
And the Wise Men, all the teachers;
Learned the names of many students,
Names of Braves and Squaws, and also
Learned to love the young papooses
In their tepee, called the Annex;
Saw the Sagamores, the Warriors,
As they were enforcing order;
Learned their watchword—"Wanna summons?"
Learned we of the Ruling Council,
O.B.A., the Ruling Council;
Entered with respect its pow-wows;
Learned to know the Calumet,
Indian peacepipe—Calumet;
Learned to love our team, the Indians,
Brave in war, our stalwart Indians.

Now the tribal rites are over,
We have left the lovely wigwam
Other camping-grounds to enter.
We'll remember things we learned there:
Loyalty to tribe and nation,
Loyalty to Truth and Valor;
These have made us finer Indians.

We know we shall ne'er forget it,
Always we'll look back with longing
To our Wigwam on the hill-top,
To our Wigwam—our Weequahic.

MEMORABILIA

These are the things that we'll remember when we're gone;
These are the things that, some day, we'll look back upon:

We'll think of Ellis' puns, and Brodsky's grin;
Of meals we ate above the lunchroom din
Of bottles breaking—followed by applause;
We'll think of guys like Boyle's and Henry's laws;
And how—sans pony—we passed Latin 8!
(And if we flunked a test—why, "It was Fate!")
Of crushes had, and high school's brief romances;
The fun we knew at most of our class dances;
Music Revues and O.B.A. Events;
"Apprendre" in the Future Perfect tense;
The honest fun of cheering at a game—
Winning or losing—cheering just the same;
Ten-minute tests, and taking quick dictation;
That awe-inspiring hush at Graduation.
These are the things we'll think about. And then,
With one last longing glance, look back again,
And most of all, remember with a thrill
The sight of our fair Wigwam on a Hill.

1933-1943

A BACKWARD LOOK

● It is the year 1933 and world-shaking events are taking place. An ambitious Austrian housepainter has seized control of Germany; the United States has ushered in a new era with a new president; and Newark celebrates the opening of its latest high school.

Now it is 1943. In the pageant of history, ten years are but an instant, a mere speck in the panorama of time. But in that instant, that speck, those ten years, the events of 1933 have molded the destinies of generations to come.

The housepainter, ne Schickelgruber, has marched over half of Europe; Roosevelt has become an American institution; and Weequahic has graduated twenty classes of citizens. Out of these classes have come the men and women who must answer for tomorrow's world.

To analyze each would be difficult, for the activities and emotions of youth are varied. Let us take this class of June 1943 as a typical representative of all that have gone before and are to come. We are a good class—those 346 of us—that is, as far as good classes go. Remember when we first came to the Annex, ready to set the school on fire with our dinks, Weequahic sweaters, and flashy orange and brown socks? Why, we can even recall doing all our homework. You know we were the first class to go to the Annex—that, in itself, is a distinction. Of course, we went to football games; you weren't a freshman if you didn't.

Then we came to the Wigwam itself. This was the real stuff and no upperclassman hesitated to let us know it. Then came 3B and our formal class organization. What an election it was—with blotters, balloons, and even songsheets! Remember our scrap-paper drive, our O.B.A. membership campaign that boosted us to the highest in the school? Who can forget our 3B "Brawl" with lollypops, licorice sticks, and more seniors than juniors? But that was nothing compared to our 4B-4A hop when we splurged on a seven-course meal of jelly apples. By this time the boys were dancing with the girls, and a daring few even jitterbugged to the strains of the all star, all senior, all flat, dance band. That term our roller-skating party really set a precedent under the inspired slogan, "Are you a good skate or a cheap skate?" It was one affair that really had its ups and downs.

Then it came, the peak of our social calendar, the "prom"! There were no flowers, no decorations, and the girls complained because there were no men. But the spirit was there. There were sultry glamour girls with their thirteen year old, disguised cousins from New York; husky, commando-trained 4A bruisers; and general rejoicing among all, except the janitors.

And so in 1933 three totally different forces came into prominence. Now, Hitler is striving to destroy the world that our government and our school have pledged themselves to preserve. That spirit, that drive, which America needs, is an inherent quality in youth. Weequahic has come into its own.

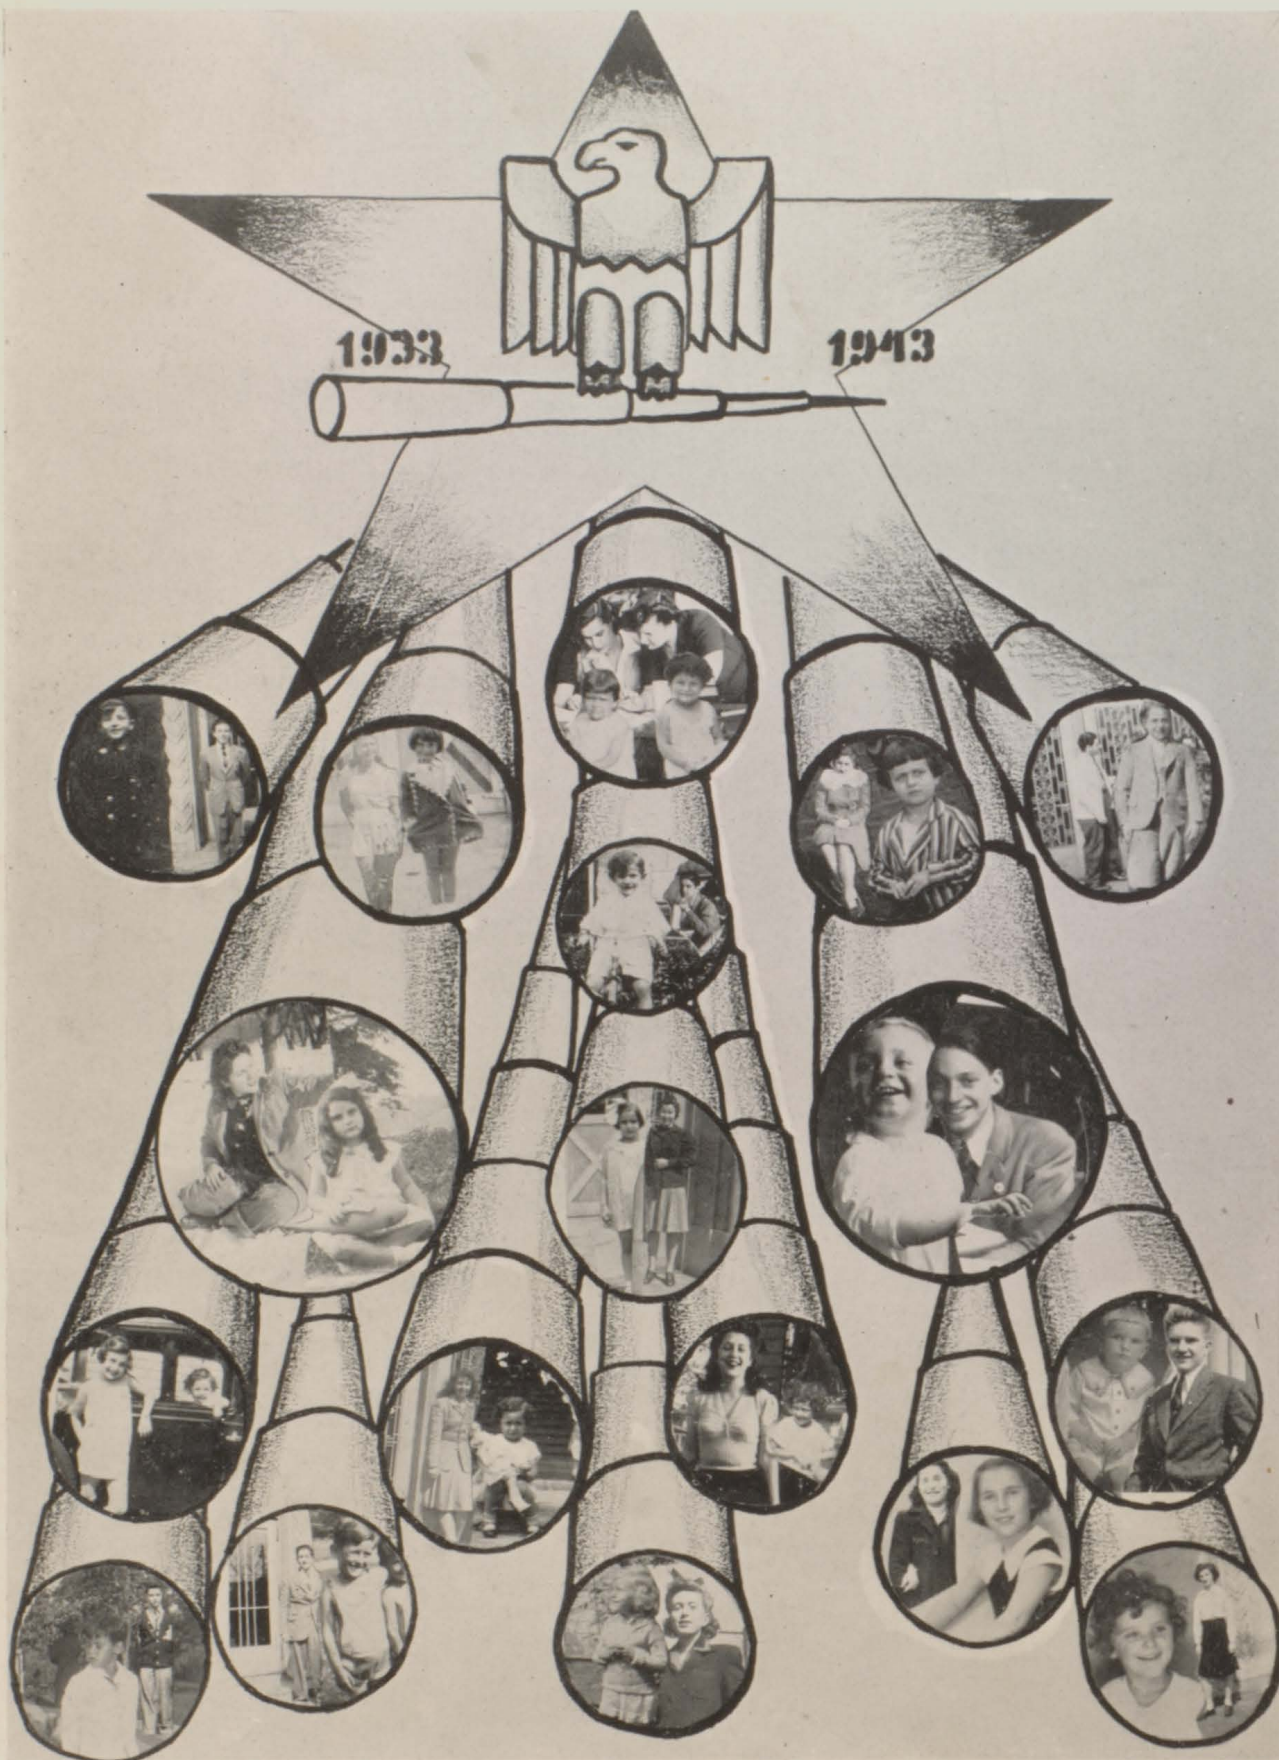

Ten years hence what kind of world will we be living in? Undoubtedly Hitler will have gone down in infamy; certainly Weequahic will continue to serve the needs of the community; and perhaps Roosevelt will still be in office.

1933-1943

1933-1943

1943-1953

● Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen! From the roof of the Max-Whitnall-Lysak, Inc., Building, makers of the world's finest mousetraps, Station W.H.S. presents a first-hand description of the opening exercises of Jacobson Sub-Normal, Newark's newest institution (of education, of course!).

The citizens of our fair city have turned out en masse for this gala occasion and the great parade is now wending its way down Appenzeller Avenue. Police Chief Arthur Morris is keeping the crowds back, ably assisted by Matthew Rothman, head of the Riot Squad.

Take it from me, folks, this parade is the most colossal stupendous, magnificent affair that this reporter has seen in many a moon. It is sponsored, you know, by the Newark Chamber of Commerce, whose ardent boosters include such well-known business men as Sheldon Denburg, Martin Dinar, Edwin Lacker, Edward Katz, Harold Blinder, Russell Goodman, Stanley Morris, and Irwin Billet.

Yes indeed, everyone is in holiday spirits, and the thriving peanuts and popcorn concession of Jerry Bierman is doing a rush business.

Even veterans of the last war are parading today. Why look, there are Colonels Morton Samuels and Bernard Fogel. And I think I see—yes, I'm sure—it's Mario Palazzolo, that famous cavalry officer. And there's Herman Wurster, the parachute ace. I also see, sporting a few trinkets from Tokyo, Lieutenants Seymour and Henry Goldberg, Mischa Brazer and Morris Borodinsky. Resplendent in their Air Corps uniforms are Eugene and Milton Laderman, William Lake, Bernard Gralitzer, and Cyril Lang. These men are being flanked by the industrious proprietors of our local Army-Navy store, Kugel, Kugel, Kohen, and Kugel (Nathan, Jerry, Harvey, and Philip, respectively).

Wait a minute, folks, there seems to be a slight commotion over at the right. Admiral Lowell Brodsky has lost one of his medals along the march . . . but it's all right now; Eddie and Abe Goldfarb have recovered it and are appraising it at their pawn shop.

Well, people, the parade has finally reached the grandstand and the band is pausing for a musical salute. It is Bill Heyer, his trumpet, and his Seldom-Fed-Seven, including such well-known personalities as "Hot-Lips" Burt Alboum, "Reed Splitter" Sandy Knoller, Walter Persons, Richard Kreitzman, Mel Applebaum, and Joseph Mikolay.

The audience is really in the gayest of spirits, and of course, Jerry Bierman is taking advantage of the fact to peddle his Cracker-jack surprise packages.

But now a hush has come over the crowd and the ceremonies are beginning. Commissioner Waldman introduces Commissioner Futterman, who introduces Commissioner Liebler, who introduces our distinguished Mayor Irwin Lieb. The audience listens interestedly as the Mayor reads the congratulatory notes sent in honor of the occasion. Telegrams have been received from Governor Norbert Freinkel, movie stars Estelle Lepore, Gloria Dinetz, and Harriet Friedman. A message has also been received from Hollywood's handsome Herbert Anker, who is currently starring in the 4* production of "The Life and Loves of Red Blackman," directed by Stanley "Orson" Paul.

FLASH! . . . we should like to interrupt this program to bring you a bulletin from the E. Yonneff News Service. Chairmen Bernice Roessler, Ada Kestenbaum, Arline Gersten, Roslyn Spring, Bernice Gross, and Marilyn Vogel have announced that Newark collected $1,565,000.03 in the 1953 Community Chest Drive. Who gave the three cents? Why, Alan Brookman, Ned Kirsch, and Al Treciokas! Joan Levin was in charge of all publicity for the campaign.

And now, on with the program! The ceremonies are continuing. Approaching the reviewing stand are the faculty of Jacobson Sub-Normal. Its founder, Mr. Joel Jacobson (looking perfectly dashing in a rented zoot suit) introduces the new teachers. They are Messrs. Irving Bogner, Robert Schachter, George Berk, and Rodman Herman; and Misses Bernice Spielvogel, Mae Pollack, Jean Cohen, Elane Eglow, Lillian Biberberg, Frances Goldis, Mildred Goldstein, Marilyn Rohrborg, Shirley Unger, Leona Lippin, Betty Gibbons, Gertrude Zapolitz, Shirley Speizer, Dolores Bromberg, Sylvia Cohen, Harriet Shenkel, Frances Gooen, Evelyn Okner, Paula Scholder, Rita Sass, Marjorie Miller, and Claire Stempler. Physical instructors are Jerry Kasper, Sanford Wolfe, Ralph Palmorozzo, Elayne Herman, and Evelyn Saperstein.

A FORWARD LOOK

That ovation you have just heard is for the Dean of Medicine, Dr. Arthur Perell, author of the best seller, "Diseases I Have Known." And in case you're curious, the five gentlemen keeping a watchful eye on President Jacobson are Milton Aboff, Ira Kal-fus, Gerald Kasen, Martin Siegel, and Burt Kapner, co-owners of the "We Rent It—You Wear It" company.

At this point, we should like to pause for a brief transcription:

We like Solondz's tasty little liver pills,

They cure everything from headaches
down to chills,

They're refreshing as can be, skidee wo,
skidee wee,

We like Solondz's tasty little liver pills.

Friends, these are your pills! They are endorsed by such famous physicians as Blanche Frumkin, Albert Mintzer, Daniel Azarnoff, Robert Stick, Maurice Dintenfass, Robert Kaye, Myron Denholtz, Robert Green, Ira Wool, Saul Friedburg, Seymour Nord, and Richard Krasner.

President of the "United Mothers Of America," Judith Mendelssohn Keller, says: "My

Herbert has been taking Solondz's pills every morning, noon, and night for the past eight years. And his green complexion just matches our dining-room wall paper. Other members of our organization, such as the former Shirley Cohen, Lenore Weiss, Florence Schwartz, Joyce Leshins, Rhoda Beckerman, Esther Teschner, Sylvia Cohen, Harriet Rubenstein, Doris Greenberg, Dolores Halpin, Lila Ferster, Edith Tunis, Toby Diller, Sarah Stein, Viola Bongo, Shirlee Sherman, Audrey Holdman, Rose Mackorofsky, Cecile Fasten, Sonia Feinsilver, Rena Greene, Irene Tugend, Elizabeth Kramer, Harriet Hirschcoff, Marilyn Cassel, Norma Raskin, and Sylvia Simpson say: "Yessiree, it's Solondz's tasty little liver pills for me!"

Now to return to the scene of the festivity. Wait! some gentlemen are picking their way through the crowd (pocket by pocket). They are Sam Abramson and Philip Horwitz, who are taking pictures for the Arthur Ortenburg controlled backward "Forward." They are followed by Jack "Scoop" Doppelt, Sob Sister Enid Braelow, Leon "Deadline" Katz, and Society editor Muriel Freedman. Representing the Times, the Tribune, and the Daily Worker, respectively, are Gerry Weiss, Seena Hirsch, and Bill Shank.

A slight commotion is distracting most of the audience as Judge I. Allen Chirls snubs an enterprising shoe-shine boy. The latter, undaunted, approaches Burt Glassner, Elmer Fitzsimmons, Stanley B. Cohen, Elias Hoffman, Ben Scheiner, Richard Landesburg, Donald Metsky, Martin Hecht, Daniel Gerber, Bernard Lubetkin, John West, Aaron Greene, and Monroe P. Epstein, who have just come out of the Downtown Engineers' Club. He is ignored by all except Epstein, who hands the boy a penny tip.

No, thanks, no peanuts for me . . . no, I don't want any popcorn either! (That Jerry Bierman will be selling Good-Humors next.)

Well, ladies and gentlemen, it seems as if everybody who's anybody is here today. Even those who could not leave their jobs are in on the fun. Looking up, we can see Hazel Meyler, Edith Miller, Doris Medgebow, Esther Reifer, Mildred Leitz, Muriel Watenmaker, Edith Gnadinger, Lenora Diamond, Julia Berg, Ruth Brant, Norma Moss, Sylvia Schreiber, Ruth Zentz, Eleanor Topper, Elka Steinberg, Josephine Crane, Lorraine Brandt, Margaret Campbell, Virginia De Witt, Florence Sweet, Evelyn Federowicz, Helen Freedman, Irene Matus, Barbara Paley, Evelyn Singer, and Marion Rosenzweig, leaving their typewriters for a glimpse from the window. Even the bosses are curious. We see Edward Bryan, Seymour Schneiderman, Nathan Kastner, Mickey Lipschultz, Seymour Baum, Robert Ross, Seymour Rothstein, Marvin Eisler, Sol Burg, and Carl Weinstein. We can even spot Milton Greenfeig, Joseph Gervel, Martin Lerit, and Jay Linker.

Now for another brief commercial: Ladies, does your skin scale? Are you a Wallflower? Try Lady Barbara Grossbart's Evening In Plaster of Paris. Take the word of such models as Lillian Rush, Lauraine Brennan, Frieda Goldfaden, Fern Turtz, Lillian Megdal, Dorothy Borinsky, Audrey Reitman, Gert Haskell, Beverly Feldman, and Maxine Freedman, who say:

"To keep my skin so fresh and clear

Evening In Plaster is always near!"

It seems folks, as if there's very little Mah Jong being played in Newark today. The regular forces have all swelled the spectator ranks. Looking perfectly stunning in their new spring ensembles are Seena Robbins, Ann Ruth Weisman, Rhoda Fruitman, Rita Shachat, Gloria Schwartz, Marilyn Cooper, and Fritzie Pearl. That chic little hat with the dripping faucet that Rhoda Glatt is wearing is the creation of Jeanne Saslow of Paris and Louis Schanerman of Hoboken.

These floats are too, too impressive! Artists Joan Gluckman and George Spindler have staged a spectacle of perfection. Obviously the perfection is too much, for poor innocent bystander Len Sobo has just fainted! Out of the crowd run several "angels of mercy." They are nurses Constance Belakowski, Harriet Linder, Louise Miller, Shirlee Schuster, Zelda Cohen, Rose Landau, Laura Pograniczny, Thelma Satz, Florence Strauss, Rose Levy, Alice Schwartz, Esther Stein, Norma Strauch, Miriam Littman, Mary Zambolla, Muriel Brown, Rhoda Berkowitz, Fay Friedman, Selma Premak, and Elsie Scheuerman. Sobo, revived, mutters "Did I make a touchdown?". looks at the pretty nurses, and faints again. . .

Over at the right, surrounded by a bevy of beautiful girls, is Ira Weisman, prominent head of the Newark Fuller Brush Company, whose hair was recently voted most likely to recede. He is followed by several of his ablest salesmen, such as Leonard Greenberg, Marvin Drazin, Frank Reingold, Al Seigler, Simon Kaplan, Harold Widerkehr, Richard Pogosky, Arnold Davis, Stanley Deiner, Seymour Monastersky, Leonard Pirchesky, Robert Borders, Iggy Bornstein, Edward Bush, Harold Heinowitz, and Malcolm Popik.

Sidewalk scene: Jason Schramm spots a sultry red-head! Jason Schramm asks her for a match! Jason Schramm gets the cold shoulder! . . .

Returning from a brief shop-lifting expedition at Bamberger's, we see Alice Griggs, Elisabeth Hoeler, Estelle Linzer, Ann Kowalsky, Thelma Abramson, Barbara Leiwant, Miriam Sarason, Sondra Lowits, Evelyn Sperling, Ann Spear, Marion Stoffregan, Arline Friedman, Jean Bloom, Vivian Baker, Elaine Kanengiser, Rita Strassburger, Eleanor Beisler, Emily Bierman, and Aileen Bernstein, who join the spectator ranks.

Sidewalk scene: Jason Schramm spots a sultry blonde . . . repeats same process with similar success. . . .

We have been asked to announce that the Newark Committee in charge of raising funds for the annual Infantile Paralysis Drive is holding a benefit dance a week from tonight at Vic Silverman's (formerly known as Frank Dailey's) Terrace Room. Members of the committee, Shirley Bender, Virginia Brophy, Florence Maltz, Shirley Cohen, Marcia Hender, Betty Sussman, Anne Freiberg, Adele Cohen, Tillie Crystal, Dorothy Bremer, Charlotte Diamond, Adele De Mauro, Ruth Goss, Pearl Harris, Emily Klacik, Anne Grossman, Estelle Hirsch, Selma Lewis, Judith Mandelbaum, Selma Neuman, and Irene Kurs, promise that it will be one of the biggest social events of the season. We owe a vote of thanks, folks, to Herbert Axelrad, Herbert Goldberg, Fred Hirsch, Lester Levy, Charles Hetzel, Gordon Rau, Irwin Fink, Arthur Friedman, Dan Spector, Phil Kunzman, Richard Smith, Herman Simon, Norton Reiss, Sol Slotnick, Sidney Perr, Robert Kampf, Clarence Thornton, Arthur Greenberg, Wesley Peiser, Robert Klein, Sam Zolotin, Robert Rogow, Nathan Schneider, William Roesch, and Marvin Bierenbaum, who have devoted a great deal of their time to this worthy cause.

Well, ladies and gentlemen, it seems as though the big parade is at an end. The Grandstand is clearing and all the city dignitaries have left. The crowds are dwindling; normal activity is being resumed; Joel Jacobson's zoot suit is back in the window of the "We Rent It—You Wear It" company. . . . Even Jerry Bierman has gone home to a seven course dinner of peanuts and popcorn. . . .

SAGA OF A WEEQUAHIC BELLE

What thing was it that through the years
Stands out, as graduation nears?
What thing was it that through the years
Was just like music to our ears?

It was the bell—

I studied hard the night before,
Until I could not study more,
In class I didn't know a thing,
Then luckily that bell did ring.

My life was saved; no more, no less,
That was the end of a great, big mess.
It happened once; it happened twice,
I almost died when it happened thrice.

When I'm gray and old and frail,
And to my children tell my tale,
Much I'll tell them of days gone by
But, oh—that bell in Weequahic High!

ROSE LANDAU

OUR LAST ACT

● We, the class of June 1943, blessed with all the joy, knowledge, and comradeship a school is capable of offering, sobered by graduation and a world at war, hereby submit our last will and testament.

Bequeathing to the:

Incoming Senior class: The privilege of being upperclassmen, a title deserving of respect and consideration, but only when so accepted. To gain that right, we leave to you, the future Seniors, the method—apply those courtesies you wish to receive, with your teachers, your fellow students, and society.

Junior class, the acme of youth, the point of a career where light is not blotted by shadows, to you: the noisy halls, blind dates, and quips on Sagamores and misplaced stairways.

The Sophomores: to you, the youngest class in the main building we leave our greatest treasures, hope and faith—hope for the future and faith in us to do our part in restoring and advancing the flame of freedom.

The Freshmen: to you we leave our gateway to knowledge—the Annex. We hope that you will accept the responsibility of guarding its walls as faithfully as we did when we were there. May it mean as much to you on your graduation as it does to us, the first Weequahic Annex students.

To the most deserving of all, the Faculty, we have only one appropriate offering. Please accept the simplest, yet most sincere gift of all, our thanks.

Possessed of sound minds and bodies, and having taken more than we leave, we hereto set our seal.

INDIAN

● It may be truly said that the war has made us athletic-minded. The goal set for us is to make each boy a perfect physical specimen; and, with Commando tactics and varsity sports becoming more popular, that goal is within sight. It is, then, with sincere pride that we present those students who have distinguished themselves in the athletic field.

Weequahic's varsity squad gained a state-wide reputation this year as a traditionally fine team was put on the floor. After capturing the City League crown, Weequahic swept on to capture the county and sectional championships. The Braves were eliminated, however, in the state finals by a hard-playing Asbury team which achieved a 38-36 victory. With the graduating class, the team and the school lose seven lettermen:

Jerry "Yuss" Kasper, who as the captain and play maker of the squad, has been acclaimed by critics as the state's finest ball handler. His brilliant all around play will always be remembered by Weequahic fans.

Len "Skippy" Sobo, who as Weequahic's all-around athlete, has received stellar honors in football, basketball, and now baseball. "Skippy" has been acclaimed an "All Stater," and is particularly mentioned for his brilliant play in the Asbury Park state tournament game, where he scored 15 of our total of 36 points.

Aaron Greene, who has been Weequahic's stabilizer, controlled play, organized moves, and played a brilliant floor game. Aaron led the passing attack and was largely responsible for Weequahic's speedy offensive.

Sanford Wolfe and Ira Wool are products of the local playgrounds, where they developed their prowess. Sanf is renowned as a remarkable set shot, while "Ike" is an exceptional team man. This dynamic duo is a credit to any team, and the boys have covered themselves with particular glory at Weequahic.

Quiet, unassuming Jerry Ostrowsky played a fine game as a side man, but his activities were limited by an old leg injury.

Football hero, Ralph Palmarozzo, gained acclaim on the court as a swift, sure-eyed forward.

Common sights around the gym were Sheldon "Raffles" Denburg and Allan "Anti-Poll-Tax" Brookman, who did splendid jobs as managers and deserve recognition from both the team and the school.

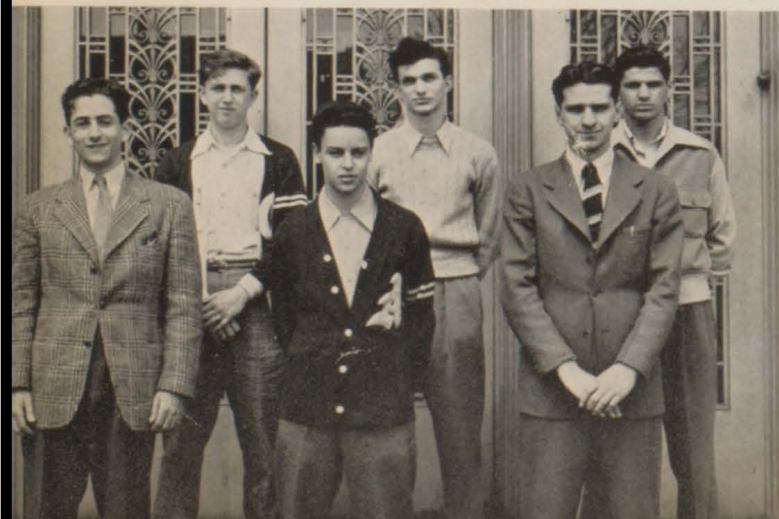

This year the baseball squad is being coached by Mr. Schwartz, and, with added sophomore and junior reserves, the team is assured a well balanced season. Among the team's graduates are:

Captain Artie Greenberg, who plays a brilliant game at first base, supports his team with a stout batting average.

Marty Leric, who leaves the team this year, will join another team, the army team. Weequahic will miss this speedy fielder and his spot will be hard to fill.

Giving strong support to the infield, are Bobby Kampf, miniature second sacker, stout Sy Schneiderman, pitcher Elmer Fitzsimmons, and both Abe and Eddie Goldfarb.

Bernard Eisen and Saul Freidberg have shared the managerial duties.

S P O R T S

Weequahic's cindermen went again into the field and returned victorious. Track and cross-country have been minimized at Weequahic, but the efforts of its trackmen are ever an inspiration to the athletic-minded incoming students.

Due to a pre-season accident Captain Herbert Appenzeller's services were limited. "App," as he is affectionately dubbed, has been a Weequahic sprinter for the past three seasons and has won his letter in the 100 and 220 yard dashes. Versatile "App" also broad jumped and pole vaulted.

Harvey "Yuss" Kohen came to Weequahic's track team last year, and in two brief seasons has become Weequahic's star miler and cross-country man. In Appenzeller's absence "Yuss" has assumed the leadership of the squad.

Fleet Irwin "Chet" Lieb, recovering from an appendectomy, has come back to the squad to continue his high jumping and assume the responsibilities of hurdling and sprinting for the squad.

L. Allen Chirls, the track team's Ph. D., has done a fine job at high hurdles, and he is adept at the quarter mile, which he ran this season.

Bill Liebler's lanky frame is a common figure streaking around the track and scooting over the hurdles.

Last fall's campaign was but a repetition of the '41-'42 season, during which a hard fighting Weequahic team battled opponents superior both in weight and reserves. The record of one win to six losses does not show the defensive skill of the team, nor does it tell the heartbreaks behind each score. It cannot tell the fervid stories of a touchdown that was called back, of an amazingly fast West Side back who outsprinted the entire team for a goal that meant a victory. The bright spot of the season was the Central game in which the Braves triumphed 6-0. Leaving the squad are:

"Skippy" Sobo, who as the veteran captain, gave his usual brilliant performance as our field general and running back;

"Ike" Wool who came through as a fast, hard plunging back;

Alfred Bornstein who turned in a sterling performance as Weequahic's star passer;

Ralph Palmorozzo who is a Weequahic veteran of two seasons and did exceptionally well as our fast right end;

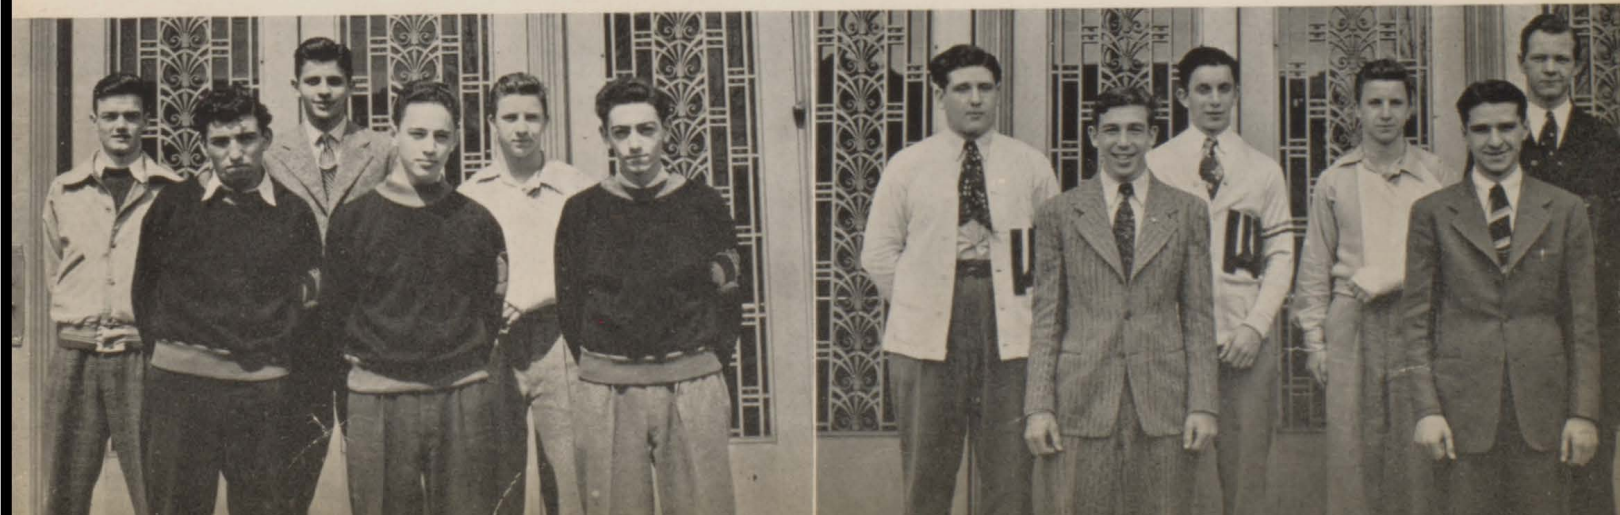

Richard Krasner who was limited in his activities because of injuries, but saw service;

Joel Jacobson, our 195 lb. lineman and football team "Jack Benny," who gained fame as line plunger;

Jerry Gorrin who is new at our school, but has fast made friends and become an accomplished Indian Star;

Bernard "Lubby" Lubetkin who faithfully executed his tasks as head manager.

Now the game is bigger, the stakes are infinitely higher. But into whatever field these men may go, we know that they will maintain their record of sportsmanship and ability. In every contest may they come out victorious.

COMMANDOS STRIKE FOR BRAWN

T'was a day at the gym and
 The girls were all there;
 The equipment was out and
 Its purpose was clear.
 Evelyn was swinging
 Quite high on the rings,
 And Sylvia was practicing
 Back flips and springs.
 On the top of the ropes
 Fran and Shirley, we spied,
 Still trying to climb them
 In vain Nicie tried.

Audrey and Pearl played a
 Badminton set,
 With Elaine and Florence
 This side of the net.
 Now, Bobbie discovered
 A high wall to scale,
 While Emily held Selma
 Upright on the rail.
 The future will find all these
 Girls super strong;
 With muscles like theirs,
 How can things go wrong?

DILEMMA OF A FEMMA — 1943

Weequahic, gone from out your halls
 Are many of your braves;
 Gosh, what on earth's a girl to do?
 I know—I'LL JOIN THE WAVES!

VIGNETTES OF WEEQUAHIC

I—the Sophomore

See the innocuous Sophomore,
Bane of every sagamore,
Buying elevator passes,
Rushing to be prompt for classes.
Does his homework every night,
(Funny that it's never right.)
Roams the Wigwam in a daze
Just as though it were a maze.
Editorials in the Calumet?
Why, he hasn't missed one yet!
Silly, harmless little angel,
Rest assured that he will change (I)
That's the Sophomore!

II—the Senior

See the lordly Senior now,
Air blase and lifted brow.
All his jokes are super-subtle,
To his views there's no rebuttal.
Pans the lunchroom food and sweets there;
Strange enough he always eats there.
Sophomores tremble as he passes
When he saunters—late to classes.
Dreams with fondest expectation
Of the Prom and Graduation.
Witty, bored,—but on the level,
He's not really such a devil!
That's the Senior.

"The Road to Anywhere"

Those who choose such a course, thus permitting the future to take care of itself, make a major mistake.

Aimless wandering is not for modern young men and women, who must prepare themselves for the skills and responsibilities of a chosen career if they are to meet stern competition.

Fix your purpose and follow it with determination. Then you will be traveling . . . THE ROAD TO SUCCESS!

All Out for Victory!

In these challenging days, requiring the utmost effort of every one of us to bring a complete victory to our country and a lasting peace to the world, the educational front—like the battle front and the production front—plays a vital role.

The year book today has a new and powerful motif: to reflect the school in war time.

Likewise, the year book today has a richer meaning than ever before: it is engraved with memories of friends and classmates who will be setting forth to all the fronts.

You rightfully expect a year book that will hold a proud place in the annals of your school, and for these reasons we dedicate our trained skills, our modern plant, and our experienced services to the fulfillment of your most discriminating requirements.
